As we kick off the DP World Tour season in Brisbane, we're delighted to be welcoming back last years' Champion Min Woo Lee, who has solidified his place as a top-50 player this year with consistent performances in the major championships and an Olympic debut. Welcome

FROM THE PGA OF AUSTRALIA

Welcome to the Royal Queensland Golf Club for the 88th staging of the BMW Australian PGA Championship – a major highlight of our Summer of Golf on the Challenger PGA Tour of Australasia.

It's my favourite week of the year and I'm sure that is the case for many of you who are joining us.

This week, we will again have the privilege of watching an outstanding field of Australian and international players tackling one of our country's finest golf courses, the 2032 Olympic Games venue, in the chase for the much-prized Joe Kirkwood Cup.

We are honoured to be the first tournament of the 2024/25 DP World Tour season and look forward to seeing our Challenger PGA Tour of Australasia players continue to chase the major rewards on offer on our Order of Merit.

This year, we have Min Woo Lee as defending champion and I'm sure we can all recall the great scenes from 2023 as he marched to his first PGA title.

I'm sure he will give a wonderful defence of the Kirkwood Cup, but no doubt it will not be an easy one when you see the starting list includes the likes of major champions Jason Day and Cam Smith and fellow leading Aussies Cam Davis, Lucas Herbert and Marc Leishman.

And then there's the challenge from our international guests from the DP World Tour and PGA TOUR who come to Australia wanting to improve already outstanding career records.

We are delighted to have BMW, a huge supporter of golf in Australia and globally, on board as our title partner for the first time in 2024.

They share our vision to take this championship to the next level and I'm sure you will encounter examples of that when you tour the course and experience some of the new family friendly fan activations.

This year, thanks to another new partner in Dabble, we have added to our Party Hole, the par-3 17th, making it more accessible to more people and increasing the fun factor.

And, of course, we have one million dollars to give away to the fans should one of our players make a hole-in-one during the broadcast window on Saturday.

The famous Rolex clocks are now on course thanks to our new Official Timekeeper and we have added a spectacular new dining option, Tillerman on 18, which offers the ideal Queensland combination of awesome seafood and drinks while watching the golf in comfort.

There's new activities in the village precincts to add to your on-course experience and the Callaway Pitch and Putt has been given an upgrade to provide plenty of fun for all ages.

Thank-you to our long-term partners Tourism and Events Queensland and the Brisbane Economic Development Agency, who have been integral to the continued evolution of our event.

Thanks to all of the fans who will join us this week, providing an atmosphere that our professionals love to experience each day. The vibe you bring makes this event special for all of us.

And also a big thank-you to our PGA Members who do so much every day for our game across Australia.

Best wishes to all of our 2024 BMW Australian PGA Championship players. I look forward to seeing who our 2024 champion is on Sunday afternoon.

Gavin Kirkman
CEO, PGA of Australia

Welcome

FROM THE DP WORLD TOUR

On behalf of the DP World Tour, I am delighted to welcome you to the BMW Australian PGA Championship at Royal Queensland Golf Club.

We are delighted to begin the new season in Brisbane, as the BMW Australian PGA Championship once again marks the start of our Opening Swing – the first of five Global Swings which take place on the 2025 Race to Dubai between now and the end of August.

The tournament also welcomes a new Title Partner in BMW, and we are delighted to begin a new chapter alongside a brand that is such a supporter of global golf and a long-time partner of the DP World Tour.

The BMW Australian PGA Championship is also the first of two consecutive tournaments held in Australia this month as part of our Strategic Alliance with the Challenger PGA Tour of Australasia. Our thanks go to Chairman Ian Baker-Finch and CEO Gavin Kirkman as we continue to work together to provide playing opportunities for our respective memberships.

As a result of our partnership, the top three players on the Challenger PGA Tour of Australasia Order of Merit - Kazuma Kobori, Brett Coletta and Daniel Gale - have each earned full playing rights on the DP World Tour for the 2025 season, as our Strategic Alliances with organisations around the world continue to provide important global pathways.

The trio will be aiming to emulate previous Order of Merit winner David Micheluzzi, who enjoyed an impressive first full season on the DP World Tour in 2024, recording seven top 20s, three top tens – including a runner-up finish at the BMW International Open in Germany – and qualified for the first event of our season-ending DP World Play-Offs in Abu Dhabi two weeks ago.

Finally, our thanks go to Tourism and Events Queensland, Brisbane City Council and the members and staff of Royal Queensland Golf Club for providing such a warm welcome, as well as the volunteers and fans, without whom special weeks like this would not be possible.

Enjoy the golf.

Guy Kinnings
Chief Executive Officer, DP World Tour

Welcome

FROM THE ROYAL QUEENSLAND GOLF CLUB

It is a tremendous honour to host the Australian PGA Championship once again at Royal Queensland Golf Club, bringing the finest golf talent back to Queensland.

This eagerly anticipated event wouldn't be possible without the steadfast support and commitment from TEQ, BEDA and the PGA, for which we are deeply grateful.

The PGA Championship offers an unparalleled platform to showcase the unique challenges of our course and the stunning beauty of our location along the Brisbane River, beneath the iconic Sir Leo Hielscher Bridges.

Our collaboration with the Tour Directors of the Australian PGA and the DP World Tour has been invaluable, providing us with insights that elevate our standards and enhance the player and spectator experience.

We are excited to welcome the golfing elite and our loyal spectators to this year's event. It promises to be a spectacular showcase of talent and determination set upon the backdrop of our beloved course.

Thank you for your continued support and enjoy the Championship.
